

Oxford Migration Society 2023 Conference:
REFRAMING MIGRATION NARRATIVES
May 17th, 64 Banbury Road & Online

10:00-12:00 Panel 1 | Challenging Refugee & Migration Narratives

Participants	Presentation Title
Bisimwa Mulemangabo & Foni Joyce Vuni	Refugee-Led Research Hub: Challenging Refugee Narratives
Dr. Molly Fee University of Oxford	"Nobody Wants to Leave": Refugee Resettlement as Displacement
Dr. Alice Watson University of Oxford	Radio and the Anti-Geopolitical Ear: imaginative geographies of a Syrian family's migration to Europe on BBC Radio 4

12:45-14:45 Panel 2 | Migrant Communities: Identities, Policies & Politics

Participants	Presentation Title
Pragati Bregowda University of Oxford	De-Notified and Nomadic Tribal communities in India: the missing 10%
Elifsena Biroglu Istanbul Bilgi University	"Why Are Narratives Important? The Case of Mardin's Süryanis"
Emanuela Nadia Borghi University of St. Andrews	Rethinking female migration narratives through women's stories of gender-based violence and migration towards Italy

15:00-17:00 Panel 3 | Borders and Boundaries

Participants	Presentation Title
Dr. Cristina Sío-López Universidad de la Coruña	Retrieving the Solidarity Pillar: Reframing the future of EU's free movement of persons from historical legacies
Irene Praga Guerro Birbeck, University of London	Redefining Global Migration: First Person Migrant Crónicas on the Journey to Boza
Elena Harriss-Bauer University of Oxford	Border Insecurities: The Political Paradox of Walled States

18:00-20:00 at ODID | Film Screening: The Migration Blanket

Winning film of the Berlin Film Festival 202, by Salma Zufiqar
International Artist and Human Rights Activist